

Mooresville, NC (09-06-2010) – NASCAR Camping World Truck Series points leader Todd Bodine drove the No. 30 Germain.com Tundra to the fifth-consecutive Toyota victory this season, 11th overall. The win, Bodine's fourth after 17 races, marks the first time the Germain Racing team had been able to overcome wildly bad luck at Kentucky Speedway to pull off the win. Friday night's win was not without its extra excitement, but, Bodine and the No. 30 crew utilized their "never give up" motto and came out on top.

"The first person I have to thank is Kyle Busch for getting me spun out which gave us the opportunity to get gas. That's why we won the race. We had a great truck, don't get me wrong, our Toyota Tundra was incredibly fast," explained Bodine after taking his 21st Truck Series victory. "When I got up behind Kyle (Busch), we got aero tight, which that's what happens in Truck Series racing. I backed off kind of riding there trying to keep the right front out in clean air and to wait for later. Low and behold we got sucked around, got some fuel and here we are in victory lane. This is awesome. I have to thank all the fans -- Kentucky fans here are awesome. Everybody watching on SPEED - thank you. This Toyota Tundra is awesome. I'm happy we could get the win just next to Germain Motor Company's home state of Ohio."

Kentucky Speedway is a track that has confounded the No. 30 team of Germain Racing. In the team's last visit to the track, for example, the team was leading the race and experienced a rare rear end gear failure. The year before that, they recovered from an early flat tire only to be spun out by Ron Hornaday Jr. in a situation similar to Friday night's incident with Busch on lap 81.

"I have to tell you, for a minute, when we spun, I thought we were in big trouble. To spin out in front of the field and only have minor damage was amazing. But, I was worried. I thought, 'We're at Kentucky, with another great Germain.com Tundra, and, in a flash, we're right back where we have been at this track so many times.' To come out of here with a win for Toyota, for the Germain's, for our No. 30 crew, it feels wonderful. It truly does," said crew chief Mike Hillman Jr.

Bodine led twice on Friday night for a total of 18 laps. His win marks the 22nd victory for Germain Racing and his 21 in the Truck Series. All of Bodine's Truck Series wins have come behind the wheel of the No. 30 Tundra for Germain. He maintains the Truck Series championship points lead with a staggering 261-point margin.

st

Friday's win marked the first time in 22 victories that all three Germain brothers, Bob, Steve and Rick, were together, trackside, for the celebration.

"It was fun to have both my brothers here. It was a lot of fun and I'm very proud of Todd, Mike and the whole team. We've got a great team this year. The pit crew does a wonderful job. To have all of us here tonight was a lot of fun," explained Steve Germain, who hails from nearby Columbus, OH.

The Truck Series has a week off before heading to Loudon, NH and on to Las Vegas – two more tracks where the team has yet to score a victory. Of Bodine's four wins this season, three have come at tracks that previously hadn't seen a Germain Racing Tundra in their winner's circles.
