NOTHING TRICKY ABOUT THE TRIANGLE FOR MEARS AT POCONO

Germain Racing scores top-12 finish and jumps two positions in the point standings

Long Pond, PA (August 3, 2014) - As the second half of the 2014 NASCAR Sprint Cup Series season gets in full swing, Casey Mears and his GEICO Racing team pulled into Pocono looking to rebound from tough races in New Hampshire and Indianapolis. They proved that short-term memory is most effective as they turned their back on the past and reached for what was ahead when track activities got underway on Friday.

When the weekend's opening practice session came to a close, Mears and his No. 13 GEICO Chevrolet SS rested 24th on the board. They later matched that effort in qualifying when Mears paced the Tricky Triangle in just 50.26-seconds, at a speed of 179.069-miles per hour.

Rain threatened on race day, but never developed. When the green flag s
